*"Almost everything will work again
if you unplug it for a few minutes,
including you"*
~Anne Lamott.

Do you and your spouse need a reboot? Do you feel like you need to unplug together, so you can restart?

If you have been married for a while, your relationship likely needs a reboot. We found ourselves in that phase of life with three kids going in six different directions, and we were only relating to each other around our schedules. The way we reconnected is the process we want to share with you.

According to Chris Hoffman at howtogeek.com, "Windows reaches a state where it doesn't know how to recover, so it halts, shows a blue-screen of death, gathers information about the problem, and automatically restarts the computer for you."

*Clearly, relationships cannot simply restart without effort. If you feel the blue-screen of death in your marriage, join us to ReMember, ReEngage, ReImagine, ReInvent, and ReVitalize your relationship.

Hosted by a Real Couple

We have been married for 35 years in June, have three adult children, two sons-in-law and two grandsons. It has not been an easy road, but we are glad we worked to stay together. You can view the video of Our Story here <http://bobgoss.com/blog/the-story-behind-my-passion/>.
